

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1744.

Hanover, October 3.

THE Magistrates of the old City have sold, for a valuable Consideration, to the Court, several Cannons and Mortars which were useless, and which are to be re-cast, under the Direction of an able Engineer, into Field Pieces, for the Use of the Army. Couriers are daily passing and repassing to and from the several Courts of Germany, but we can learn nothing as to the Contents of their Dispatches, except that the League of Dresden is in a manner formed; and as soon as his Polish Majesty returns from Warsaw, the Articles of the Confederacy will be made publick. Two Quarter-Masters, and four or five Jockies, have been here lately, to buy up Horses for remounting the Dutch Cavalry; which are to be deliver'd the latter End of this Month, or the Beginning of November. The News that was lately spread at Frankfort, as if a certain Ally of the Queen of Hungary was treating of Peace with some of the French Ministers at Metz, is an absolute Forgery; as is also another Rumour lately spread, that the Elector of Cologne had acceded to the Treaty of Union.

Berlin, October 3. It does not appear that the Court is at all uneasy, or apprehensive, at the Conduct of the Court of Poland, or the Rumour of a Camp being form'd on the Frontiers of Silesia; for we flatter ourselves here, that it will be so long before the Ministries at Vienna and Dresden can agree about the Form of the Neutrality in Italy, that the Saxon Succours may come too late: Besides, his Polish Majesty must be too well acquainted with the present Disposition of the Imperial Dyet, to hazard taking such a Step as this, which would inevitably expose him to very untoward Consequences; of which his Ministers seem to be sensible, by their endeavouring to have a Clause inserted in the Contract for Auxiliaries, by which it shall be stipulated, that they are not to be employed against the Emperor; which is, in Fact, a Stipulation that they shall not be employed at all, or, at least, very little better. We are in as little Pain about the Motions of the Russians; for it is certain, that the Court of Moscow has more Reason to cultivate a good Understanding with the King, our Sovereign, than with any other Potentate in Europe; and as his Majesty has never given the least Occasion for the Czarina to complain, we have no Notion of her involving her Country in a War in other People's Quarrels; especially while the Affair of the Marquis de Botta is suffered to sleep, after all the Declarations made by her, upon that Subject.

Paris, October 5. We are here in as high Spirits as People can be; the King's Recovery seems to have deliver'd us from all Evils, and we are now occupied with no other Care, than that of testifying our Thankfulness to Heaven by the most expensive Rejoicings. The Scheme of his Majesty's Journey is as follows. On the 30th the King set out from Metz for Luneville, where his Majesty will reside Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday he will be at Sarbourg, and on Saturday at Saverne, where he will spend the following Day. On Monday he will proceed to Strasbourg, and on the Friday following will be at Colmar, from whence he will go to the Camp before Fribourg; which, it is thought, will by that time be obliged to surrender. There was lately some Talk of Peace, but it is entirely blown off, it is likewise reported here, that by a Treaty concluded with the Republick of Genoa, it is stipulated, that all the Dominions possess'd by the King of Sardinia, and in-herited with those of the Republick, are granted to the latter by his Imperial Majesty, under the Guaranty of the Crowns of France and Spain; and that the Moderation and good Intentions of our Ministry may appear, it is said, that the Title of this new Treaty is, An Alliance for securing the Rights of the Holy Roman Empire, securing the Freedom, and establishing the Balance of Power in His Holiness, and the Serene Republick of Venice, who are invited to accede thereto. A Piece has been lately published, under the Title of a Letter, from the Count de Sauras, to his Eminency Cardinal Tencin; in which, the Losses of the Merchants of France are very fully set forth, and pathetically lamented. At the Close, there is a Proposal for supporting and augmenting the Maritime Power of France, so as to maintain, constantly, and even in time of Peace, three Squadrons; one in the Ocean, another in the Mediterranean, and the third in America. We flatter ourselves, that when the Toulon and Brest Squadrons are joined by that of Spain, they will be in a Condition to give the British Fleet Battle; at least, this is a Subject the Ministry affect to talk of; and all their Partizans maintain it is necessary, to repair the Honour of France, and to console the Merchants for their Losses.

Dublin, Sept. 29. We have an Account from Waterford, by this Day's Post, that on Wednesday, about Eight o'Clock, they had the highest Tide that hath been known in the Memory of any one there; that it had overflowed their Quay, and done very great Damage to the Wares in the Merchants Cellars, and on the lower Floors of their Warehouses.

Last Wednesday the Chimney Sweeper, who was found Guilty of the late Riot at Oxmantown-Green, was severely whipp'd, under the Inspection of one of the High Sheriffs of this City, who attended to see the Sentence of the Court duly executed.

On Monday a large Quantity of unmerchantable Herrings were burnt on Ormond Quay, by Order of the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor.

The same Night died suddenly, at Supper, at his House at Raheny, Mr. John Morrison, an eminent Merchant of this City, and Lieutenant in Captain Bradshaw's Company: Ensign George Woods, succeeds him as Lieutenant in the said Company.

Last Wednesday Night there was a great deal of Damage done by the Spring Tide, which being set up by a strong Gale at South East, raised it higher than can be remembered these many Years. The Customhouse, and several other Quays, and many of the Streets, were overflowed; a great many Cellars were filled with Water, by which Means the Inhabitants were great Sufferers; a poor Gabbard Man was drown'd at the Customhouse Quay. It rose so high at Irish Town, that it is said that Place was six Foot under Water; it covered most of the Lots on the North Strand, and hath made such large Breaches on the Strand, beyond Clontarf, that it is computed many Hundred Pounds will not repair the Road, and make it as good as it was formerly.

The same Night, a Gabbard sunk upon Aston's Quay, and the Man who took care of it was drowned.

Last Thursday the Boyne Privateer was dextrously launched at George's Quay, to the entire Satisfaction of a great many Spectators.

Private Letters from Hamburg say, that the Election of the Prince of Anhalt Zerbst, to the Duchy of Courland, is a Point settled, in Consequence of a Negotiation between the Courts of Warsaw and Moscow.

According to the last Letters from Cologne, the Elector is about to assemble 10,000 Men, in Consequence of the Treaty lately concluded with the Maritime Powers.

They write from Frankfort, that the States of Swabia have prepared a Protest against the French Troops taking Possession of the Dominions of the House of Austria, within that Circle, in the Name of the Emperor; and that it will be very speedily transmitted to the Dictature of the Empire.

The Prize brought into Bristol by the Ranger Privateer, is called the Grand Paul, Capt. Dumaine, from Martinico for Bourdeaux.

The Union, Dennis, from Chester for London, is ashore near Wexford, but all the Cargo will be saved.

The Books of his Majesty's Ship the Gibraltar, are sent from the Pay-Office to Sheerness, to pay the Wages due to her Company, to the 30th of June, 1744; and the Books of the Cruiser Sloop are sent to Portsmouth, to pay her Company off.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint the Rev. Mr. William Freind, Rector of Whitney in Oxfordshire, to be Prebendary of Westminster Abbey, in the room of Dr. Freind, his Father, who has resign'd; and this Day he will be install'd in Westminster Abbey, with the usual Formality.

Yesterday Morning died, after a tedious Indisposition, at his House in Masham Street, Westminster, Mr. Henry Dagley, Master Bricklayer to Westminster Abbey. His Place is in the Gift of the Dean and Chapter of St. Peter's.

Last Thursday a young Woman, tolerably well dress'd, flung herself into the River Thames, off Parliament Stairs, Old Palace Yard, Westminster; she was taken out, and carried to a Publick House, and all possible Means used for her Recovery, but she soon expired.

Yesterday the following Six Persons were executed at Tyburn; viz. William and Sarah Cox, for a Street Robbery; Thomas Bonney, Thomas Wright, Luke Ryley, and John Mac Evoy, for the Highway. A Party of the Foot Guards conducted them to the Place of Execution.
